

Coastline Community College

Military Spouses Program

Associate in Arts (AA) – Major in Human Services

DEGREE OBJECTIVE—This major prepares students to work in the expanding field of human services, a growing profession in response to the human needs and problems in the 21st century. The certificate program provides a general background for work with families, children, and adults. Individuals with a certificate in Human Services can enhance their professional helping skills, offering them greater work opportunities as social service technicians, case management aides, and residential managers. Additionally, police officers, firefighters, military counselors, and others dealing with the public will benefit from the program training. The certificate exposes the student to the most current thinking in the field, hands-on experience, and community networking.
