You will walk away understanding the principles and process of networking, as well as how to formulate your own personal "elevator pitch" and how to utilize social media to your advantage. Find out what type of networker you are and where to go for opportunities to build your network.

SMART WAYS TO USE LINKEDIN

Do you know how to use LinkedIn to its full potential? Have you incorporated it into your job search strategy? Most users "connect" with far too many people without really developing relationships or building a true network.

During this presentation, you will receive advice on how to use (and teach clients to use) LinkedIn with a purpose. Content will include how to ask for recommendations, write personalized connection requests, how to complete a profile, the importance of a strong headline and summary, the power of groups and how to really use LinkedIn for your job search.

SOCIAL NETWORKING WITH A PURPOSE

Most of us know the importance of social networking. But how many of you are doing it efficiently and effectively?

This presentation will teach you how to think strategically about using your social networking time. Sharing smart and shocking examples, you will learn how to network with a purpose – each and every time you head out the door or open your computer. Don't miss out!
